THEME OF THE SEMINAR

The Corporate world, with public and private sector players is a significant driving force to accelerate growth of Indian economy, reduction of poverty and equitable distribution of economic resources to the people. However, in the process it is facing rebuttable hindrances at different levels demanding adjustments and amendments to financial markets and corporate law. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has taken many initiations to promote and facilitate effective corporate functioning and investor protection.

The modern corporate spectrum is subjected to various issues and challenges in the process of facilitation and regulation of the corporate entities which have cascading effect in the investor opportunities and sentiments. The present corporate legal system having the SEBI, Competition Commission of India and RBI as its principle constituents and legal instrument such as Companies Act, 2013 SEBI guidelines and regulations are playing vital role in regulating the capital and financial markets. In this direction, the age old Company Law has taken a transformed shape into the Companies Act, 2013. The new Company Law which focuses mainly on policy, law and regulatory structure has opened new vistas and new spectrum to improve interests of various classes of stakeholders including FDI's and FII's.

There is a need to understand the tone of new law for optimum benefits. This proposed seminar is one of the efforts to understand the new Company Law in its entirety and provide insights to the policy and law makers to strengthen the law further in order to achieve its objective of effective facilitation for the growth of corporate entities. The deliberations and discussions that take place in the seminar shall be of great value for the efficient performance of corporate entities.
